Summer Sunshine Vacation Bible School

Registration for this year's Program "Maker Fun Factory - Created by God-Built for a Purpose" has begun. Forms may be picked up at the Religious Education Office or in the pamphlet rack in the rear of the Church. The program runs from July 17 - 21st from 9:30 - 12:30 at the school and parish grounds. It is open to children entering grades K - 5 in September 2017. Don't miss this faith-filled fun week for your children. Call Sr. Rose at 782-7420 for more information. Hurry as registration is limited.

We are in need of adult volunteers to lead groups. We especially need someone who can organize games and activities for outdoor play time.

Those of you who can't help during the week of Bible School may want to consider helping on the Saturday before (July 16) from 10:00 am – 3:00 pm. Adults, 7th and 8th graders are needed to help decorating for the program.

Summer Faith Enrichment for Adults

The sessions will take place here in the Pastoral Center on June 28th, July 5th, July 19th & July 26th from 7:00 – 9:00 pm. Come - listen, discuss, pray & find the answers to so many of the moral dilemmas facing us as Catholic Christians today. Air conditioning & light refreshments will be provided. Registration would be helpful. Call 782-7420.

Catechists can obtain Level 2 credit but must attend all sessions

This Summer, Read Something Totally Different

Stoner by John Williams

First of all, this book has nothing to do with “being stoned” or “high”: it is the last name of the protagonist (who is not a drug addict, but farm-boy turned university professor). Second, Stoner has always gotten rave-reviews in the UK—it’s been called “The perfect novel”—which isn’t far off, but its popularity languished in the US. However, it is now back in print and we’re all the richer for it. It is, perhaps, the book I most often recommend when someone asks me what novel they should read next. Reads as fresh and real today as it did when it debuted in 1965.

Saint of the Week

St. Laszlo June 27

Laszlo was the son of King Bela of Hungary. He was born at Neustra on July 29 and was elected King of Hungary by the nobles in 1077. He was at once faced with the claims of a relative and son of a former King, Solomon, to the throne, and defeated him on the battlefield in 1089. He supported Pope Gregory VII in his investiture struggle against Emperor Henry IV, and Rupert of Swabia, Henry's rival; Laszlo married Adelaide, daughter of Duke Welf of Bavaria, one of Rupert's supporters. Laszlo successfully repelled Cuman attempts to invade Hungary, encouraged Christian missionaries, and built many churches, but allowed religious freedom to the Jews and Mohammedans in his realms. In 1091, he marched to the aid of his sister Helen, Queen of Croatia, against the murderers of her husband, and when she died childless, annexed Croatia and Dalmatia despite objections from the Pope, the Emperor in Constantinople, and Venice. At the Synod of Szabolcs in 1092, he promulgated a series of laws on religious and civil matters. He was chosen to lead the armies of the First Crusade but before he could do so died at Nitra, Bohemia, on July 29 when he was fifty-five years old. He is one of the great national heroes of Hungary and made Hungary a great state, extending its borders and defending it successfully against invasion. He was venerated from the time of his death for his zeal, piety, and moral life, and was canonized in 1192 by Pope Celestine III. Laszlo is known in Polish as Ladislaus.
